Hayes & Alden's Boston Comedy Co.

Presenting the three-act musical farce, "A Jolly Mix Up," will be the attraction for the Norway Opera House, Saturday evening, Aug. 26.

This is the 12th season of this excellent organization and while the attraction has never appeared in Norway before it has met with much success in about all the other New England towns during its travels.

"A Jolly Mix Up" is a succession of interesting and diverting incidents. The fun is fast and is clean and wholesome. The musical numbers are bright and show the extraordinary talent of the company. An especially strong one, incidental to the action of the comedy, is a number of high class vaudeville acts are introduced, among the prominent ones being the Irving Bros. and Paul Riches in an original and interesting Western sketch entitled "On the Rio Grande" and Miss Eda Clifford, Boston's favorite contralto.

Gorgeous costumes and picturesque stage settings are elements that contribute to make "A Jolly Mix Up" one of the best attractions to visit Norway this season.

The company carries at a heavy extra expense Stetson's Boston Orchestra and the show gives a two hour dance which is fresh to the patrons of the entertainment. The whole attraction is really two entertainments for one admission. The dance alone with excellent music by an excellent orchestra.

The price of admission, which costs the patrons of the show nothing extra, is 25c with a few reserved seats at 35c for both the show and the dance. The reserved seats are now on sale at Stone's.

Wm. F. Jones, Judge.

Albert Louie, chauffeur for J. F. Howland, was before Judge Jones Monday, on complaint of W. A. Bicknell for over speeding the automobile on Main street. The witnesses were Cye Withum, Geo. W. Holmes and Donald Andrews. It is claimed the defendant was running at the rate of about 60 miles an hour to which he pleaded not guilty. Upon hearing he was found guilty and fined $10 and costs amounting to $19.01.

There has been a considerable over speeding on the town since the new act and if it is not stopped at once other arrests are going to be made. Over speeding has got to be stopped before any accident occurs. The officers are on the look out and will arrest any who are disobeying the law.

Allen Sibley of South Paris was before Judge Jones, Wednesday, and pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny. One day last winter he hired a coat of John F. Farnham's clothing store and turned it into money instead of returning the same. He was sentenced to thirty days in jail and was committed.

Half-Century Masonic Celebration.

The fiftieth anniversary of the raising of Francis S. Gammon and Stephen G. Hatch was observed at the home of Mr. Gammon, last Tuesday afternoon. Some forty and more members of the South Paris Lodge, No. 18, F. & A. M., were present.

Fifty years ago on the 22nd of August, Francis S. Gammon and Stephen G. Hatch were made Masons and were raised by the late Benjamin G. Barrows. At that meeting there were about 25 Masons present, all of whom have passed away except the two who were raised that night and Dr. Albert Thompson of Philadelphia. S. G. Hatch was 72 years of age last July and Francis S. Gammon is 74 this September. Mr. Gammon suffered from rheumatism in his legs badly and he was taken from the house in a chair to the orchard but was able to walk back, assisted by S. G. Hatch and J. H. Murdoch. A lunch was served, consisting of sandwiches with apples, bananas, coffee and frosted cake, doughnuts, etc.

Secretary H. D. Smith made a few remarks and Clarence M. Smith made one of the happiest speeches of his life in presenting Masonic watch charms to Mr. Gammon and Mr. Hatch in behalf of Oxford Lodge.

The party was conveyed there by eight autos and five teams and the committee of arrangements were Albert J. Stearns, Lee M. Smith and G. E. Curtis. The Gammon farm is about three miles out of Norway village. The house is of ancient make, built more than a hundred years ago, and farming is done in the old-fashioned way. There are from 250 to 400 acres of land that go with the place. We were shown the orchard and the effects of plowing the ground as to making the trees bear fruit. They have a large amount of apples. A cranberry bed was seen, probably 50 feet square in a swamp, from which we were told they had gathered 17 bushels of cranberries in a season. The barn is crowded full of hay, and cattle are tied by the neck in the old-fashioned way.

Among the older Masons present were W. H. Porter, 89 years old last May, and the present owner of the Boston Globe came who has been a Mason 47 years. He belonged to South Paris Lodge.

Francis A. Danforth, Norway, aged 78 years, was there, lacks only a few months of being a Mason 50 years. He is in the south having spent his two weeks vacation with relatives earlier in the season in Massachusetts. Mrs. Carroll will return home last of the week.

E. L. Porter of Route 1, West Paris, and wife, son and daughter made for us a call last Tuesday. He has finished buying and had a vacation. They visited friends in Massachusetts and rode over 200 miles in an auto and had a splendid time. Mr. Porter says he would have an auto if he could find one and we told him he could find another copy of Hathorne's "Fenshaw," Marsh & Copan 1828 edition, about his house he could probably swap it for a machine and get boot if the market prices for the book set it high up.

Field Day and Picnic.

The annual Oxford County Pomona Grange field day and basket picnic was held at the Fair Grounds between Norway and South Paris, Tuesday. During the forenoon all roads led to the Fair Grounds and by noon there was a large crowd assembled from far and near.

At noon all assembled in groups under the shade of the pines and enjoyed the picnic dinner. Hot coffee was furnished on the grounds. E. E. Twitchell's booths were open for the sale of fruits and soft drinks and were busy most of the day.

Many of the boys enjoyed games of base ball at various parts of the Fair Grounds although there were no picked games.

Among the speakers of the day were C. S. Stetson, State Master of the Grange, who spoke on the subject of "Roads and Road Maintenance." He handled this subject, which is a very popular one in this vicinity, in a very able manner. He described the roads as they ought to be and the way to maintain them, and said the men who work on the road should take an interest in them and for each dollar received should give a dollar's worth of work. He also spoke on the marketing of goods and showed the inequality of arrangements when the farmer sells his barrel of apples for $1.50 and they in turn are sold in Boston for $3.50.

Man is the one who seems to be making the profits.

State Lecturer, Hon. B. Walker McKee gave a very interesting talk on the parcel post. He showed the need of such a service and many of the advantages gained. In one illustration he showed to what an extent the present postal system is used as a business necessity and showed likewise that after the installation of the parcel post, what the absolute necessity of such a system would be. It will be a means of saving time, just as the express is a gain over the freight.

Hon. Andrew Elliott of Gault, Ontario, spoke on the question of the day in the state of Maine. He said he did not expect to present anything new but that he would make a few statements on temperance as he saw and understood them here. He spoke of the situation in regard to this question not bringing politics, as has been the custom, as old things are not always the best things, and today it is out of politics, and he hoped it was out for all time. For the past few years the prohibitionists have not done their work. The world is watching Maine to see what she will do on the 11th of September, and if the vote is to do away with prohibition in the constitution, it will be a slide back of more than a quarter of a century for the dear old state.

The last speaker of the day was Hon. Howard Davies of Yarmouth, Mr. Davies spoke on the direct primaries. He referred to the prohibition question and the various articles to be voted on in September. The direct primaries bill, which he said he had caught sight of, would be to do away with prohibition in the constitution, it will be a slide back of more than a quarter of a century for the dear old state.

He showed by illustration the need of direct primaries, the many advantages gained and the purer form of government, one that cannot be easily corrupted, through the direct primaries a better form of government can be attained.

During the day the Hebron Band furnished excellent music.

Camp Comus Notes.

Ralph Richardson and Earl Shaw were the guests at Camp Comus, Saturday night and Sunday. Mr. Shaw says camp life has this city life beat a block. He went fishing and caught eight large bass and three pickerel. He is an expert fisherman. He saved Mr. Richardson from a very serious injury by jumping under him as a limb broke in a tree where he was putting up a swing.

Shaw injured his hand when Mr. Richardson fell, the force was so great. Mr. Richardson had the wind knocked out of him for a few minutes. It was necessary to dash cold water on his face to bring him to. We thank Bert Maine for the nice mess of beans we gathered from his garden. We enjoyed them immensely.

To Ailing Women.

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Norway.

No woman can be healthy and well if the kidneys are sick. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are sick. Kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen and worse troubles quickly follow. This is often the true cause of bearing down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Urine poison also causes headache, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has cured thousands of such cases. You will get better as the kidneys get better and health will return when the kidneys are well. Let a Norway woman tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Joseph A. Woods, Summer St., Norway, Me., says: "I am glad to say a word in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I was annoyed for a long time by backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble. I tried many remedies but got no relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The contents of two boxes brought me great relief. I might add that Doan's Kidney Pills also cured my little son of weak kidneys." 38-34

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and no other.

Isaac Aulando Furlong.
The funeral services of Isaac Aulando Furlong, who entered into rest August 14th, were attended by relatives and friends Aug. 15th in Roxbury, the Rev. Bradcliffe officiating and music being rendered by Mr. Bartlett of the Harvard quartette. Moore's "Come Ye Disconsolate" and "Abide With Me" two of Mr. Furlong's favorite songs were rendered.

Mr. Furlong died at the Homeopathic Hospital following an operation, about two weeks after.

Mr. Furlong was one of four sons of Ruth Nason Furlong of Waterford, and Isaac Patchen Furlong of Greenwood, in which latter place he was born May 15, 1858. In 1881 his parents moved to Wisconsin and ten years later Mr. Furlong, after a few years in business in Chicago came to Cambridge, Mass., and July 23, 1878 married Lizzie Mason, who died May 15, 1905. Mr. Furlong also survived a "Forrest" and "Abide With Me" two of Mr. Furlong's favorite songs were rendered.

Mr. Furlong had marked natural ability with pencil and brush and music devoting much of his time professionally to the latter, singing as tenor in a number of well known quartettes and as soloist, at St. Paul's for two years at the time when Phillips Brooks was rector, also at Park Street Church, Franklin Street Church, Cambridge and elsewhere. The sterling qualities of his character endeared him to all who knew him.

Mr. Furlong this summer paid a visit to the old homestead and the scenes of boyhood at Greenwood.

Among his near relatives he is survived by a brother, Arthur B. Furlong whose achievements in the field of painting and music are well known here and abroad and two nephews, Atherton B. Furlong, Jr., vice president of the The Universal Piano Company, New York and a well known baritone singer, and Charles Wellington Furlong, the artist, author and explorer. Capt. Leonard Furlong P. C. whose recent death was announced from the Philippines was also a nephew.

The burial service took place in New Haven, Conn., where the remains were interred.

Cornish Fair.

The track was in excellent condition and some of the fastest heats and races in years were pulled off.

A new front and gateway, together with new ticket office and rooms for the use of the president, secretary and treasurer, add much to the general appearance of the surroundings at the grounds and many other extensive repairs have been made. Those interested in horse racing will be pleased to know that the track has been very indamed, making it one of the best in the State.

GREENWOOD.
Another Porcupine Heard From.
Nero, the good natured and popular dog of W. F. Farr, has departed this life as the result of a bite from a porcupine.
It was thought at the time all the quills were removed but later from appearances it would appear some escaped notice, worked into the throat, prevented the taking of food and finally caused the dog's death. He will be greatly missed by the children of this neighborhood as he was a fine playmate, always ready for a frolic and never cross.

It Grows Hair.
Here's Some Important News for Men
Who are Growing Bald.
People who have taken our word for it that Parisian Sage is the real hair grower, beautifier and dandruff cure have never been disappointed. Here's the word of a person who took our word for it. "I have been using Parisian Sage about a year. When I began using it I had only a light 'fuzz' on my head. Now I have a good thick growth, and it is growing thicker and longer, right about. Many people don't believe it can be done, but I know from my own experience with Parisian Sage that it can.
I can recommend it in the fullest confidence."—Gaius Brown, 705 North Fillmore St., Maryville, Mo.

C. D. Koch of the Koch Pharmacy,

St. Rocco.
St. Rocco's seventh celebration, at Canton, Wednesday, Aug. 9th, under the personal supervision of Marco Lavorgna, was larger and better than ever. The rent was managed by James W. Bicknell of Canton.
The day's program opened with high mass being celebrated in the temporary altar erected on the grounds north of the grand stand. At 11 a. m., headed by the St. Cecilia band, the procession which had formed at Lavorgna's home near the grounds, marched up the road and down the decorated driveway to the altar. In the procession were Mr. Lavorgna and a number of his countrymen and the priest, Rev. Father
A. Santagnello and an altar boy, Angelo Urbano, both of whom came from Portland. The statue of St. Rocco was carried by four Italians who placed it on the altar. After Mr. Lavorgna had knelt at the feet of St. Rocco and offered his devotion, the priest celebrated mass which was witnessed by the crowd.
There were about 4000 present, less than 200 being Italians. The ball games resulted in Fryburg 3, Wilton 1; Liver-more Falls 5, Rumford Falls 3.

A very pretty but simple wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Samuel Ridlon, August 10th at 3 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Davis being the officiating clergyman, when Annie H. Mayberry, marriage.

A few invited friends were present,
among them four brothers of the bride,
Edgar, Ernest and Clarence of North

Aldrich was always playing tricks on him in talk, but Mark got even with him by once sending a book to Aldrich with the inscription, "To Thomas Bailey Aldrich from his only friend, Mark Twain."—American Magazine.

A MAN'S NECKTIES.
 Tie Said to Be the Voice of Inner Man.
 Somebody has said that "the necktie is the voice of the inner man."

Probably that is the reason the average man invariably dislikes the ties his wife buys him unless they are white or black.

It is to be hoped that the fond middle aged man seen on the street the other day wearing a tie that looked like an exploded rainbow was christening his wife's choice. If that tie expressed "the inner man" the wearer was certainly "a hummer."

The authority for the tie as the voice of the inner man says also that when a man is in love his spirits are so exuberant that he fumes out in the most impressionistic of ties. Pink and blue and purple and green are not too brilliant for him. After marriage he subsides into natural tints, save when he is going out for a good time with the boys, when a red tie seems to be the most significant of his mental mood. Wives may get a hint of their husbands' moods from the neckties they sport. If there is a pretty girl in a business office it is wise to watch out for gayety in the neckwear.

If a man has grown indifferent and settled down into a certain monotony of life and thought he buys the "six for a quarter kind" at the bargain counter. If he's something of a top he tries several before he finds quite the right thing in which to approach the day's duties. Remember the story of Deane Bromfield's visit, who being asked concerning a basket of crumpled ties he was taking away, replied, "These, sir, are our failures."

A wife should lose no opportunity of gaining information relative to her husband's idiosyncrasies. The knowledge aids her in managing him. She should let him buy his own ties and keep her eyes open as to what he wears.

Tips For the Cook.
 A tiny bit of butter is often an improvement to cake frostings, especially coffee, chocolate, maple or caramel.

A slight sprinkling of orange juice gives a delicate finishing touch to light wheatear pancakes served with butter and sugar. Lemon juice is often used in this way in European households.

In putting up school children's lunches it is not necessary to use always the same kind of bread. White wheat bread should be varied with whole wheat, graham, rye and Boston brown bread. The children will not only have the dietetic advantages of the peculiar qualities of each kind, but they will not grow tired so quickly of "plain bread-and-butter." Do not cut off the crusts of the bread and lose the nutriment which they contain.

To prevent baked potatoes from becoming soggy break the skins upon taking them from the oven. This gives the steam a chance to escape. Dried cherries should be used in cookery oftener than they are at present. Soaked overnight and cooked in sugar next day, they make a nice sauce, which may well take the place of apples at this time of the year, when the latter fruit is apt to grow flavorless. They may also be used in cakes and sweet puddings instead of currants or in combination with them. In fact, they may be used in almost any recipe calling for currants. They have a pliancy which the currant lacks.

When bright red apples are to be made into sauce do not peel, but merely wash them well and quarter. Let them cook till tender and then press them through a potato ricer or very coarse sieve that will exclude only the skins and cores. Not only is the beautiful color of the apples preserved by this method of cooking, but there is much saving of good apple which is more or less wasted with peeling.

Kerosene a Cleaner.
 The soot that coats a frying pan can easily be taken off by sopping it with kerosene and scraping it off shortly afterward with a pot chain.

Kerosene should never be handled near the fire.
 To cut the grease on the kitchen range kerosene is indispensable, but the stove should be perfectly cold before applying.

First dampen a rag with the oil and rub over the stove and follow this with a thorough rubbing with old newspapers, after which go over it with a rag dampened with a little benzine or kerosene oil.

Do not build a fire in the stove until this is evaporated, which will be generally a few hours.
 Then wipe off a nice and clean, after which give a coat of varnish. You will be surprised how little it will need blacking after the stove has been varnished.

The top is about the only part that becomes soiled and that will need to be attended to with brush and blacking. The rest will need nothing more than wiping off with a soft rag.

Putting kerosene and ammonia in water when washing glass ornaments will give them a brightened appearance.

Washing the window panes with kerosene will keep them from frosting in cold weather, while at the same time giving a brighter light within the rooms.

A Pretty Salad.
 A pretty salad has celery and cream cheese for its foundation. Mash a 10 cent cream cheese and work with a fork until smooth. Mix with one-half cupful finely chopped celery and salt to season and make into little balls. Put a half English walnut meat on each side of every ball, arrange them on heart-leaves of lettuce in the shape of a star, pour over all a French dressing and sprinkle with paprika.

SOUTH WATERFORD.
 Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys.
 The second rally of the campaign for the retention of prohibition in the Constitution came off at Masonic hall on Thursday evening, Aug. 17. Rev. E. W. Sias acted as chairman and introduced the program of the evening by singing in concert a number of fine campaign songs in which he was assisted by Mrs. Dora Rounds as accompanist on piano.

This exercise was followed by prayer by Mr. Sias. He then spoke of the interesting subject proposed for discussion by the speakers present, and graciously introduced Hon. C. F. Whitman of Norway to open the debate on the necessity and the righteousness of prohibition as the only proper remedy for the rum curse in the State.

Mr. Whitman referred to the position of Oxford County as a stronghold of sobriety and social virtue among the rural counties of the State, and gracefully acknowledged his obligations to the people of the County for the civic honor conferred on him at different times. His whole address abounded with unanswerable arguments against the false and illogical position of the advocates of license as a cure for the alleged failure of prohibition.

He was followed by Rev. E. C. Wentworth, pastor of the M. E. church at Norway village, who, as a preacher of righteousness, with logic, wit and satire, flayed the emissaries of the liquor traffic without mercy, and by statistical statements illustrated the fallacies of all the pretensions of the upholders of the doctrine of license laws as the true standard for wise legislation. Mr. Wentworth proved himself to be thoroughly equipped with facts and all necessary campaign issues, and he constantly "made good."

The third meeting of the Rally series is appointed for Thursday evening, Aug. 24, at Masonic hall. The speakers are to be James S. Wright, Esq., and Alton Wheeler of South Paris.

Maude Atherton is chaperoning a party of her girl students friends, occupying the vacant cottage of Dr. Sylvester on the south shore of Bear Lake. This is only a diversion from the occupation of their regular summer quarters at Monroe Cottage.

Two gentlemen guests of Oak Lodge, Cederstrom and Nutting, on Friday last, while on a mountain climbing expedition, picked 21 quarts of blueberries. The same gentlemen, on Saturday, caught seven sizeable bass and pickered in Bear lake.

Many citizens, in view of the wide interest in the public advocacy and defense of prohibition, with no opposition in the field except about half a dozen liquor subsidized newspapers, are asking, "Well, who's afraid?"

The new law for prohibition of automobile travel on the Bear Mountain road in the east side of the lake, is getting to be understood by the auto traveling public and they now wisely turn to the west shore road. A few unwary parties have been arrested and fined for violation of the law.

Allice Hamlin, who lately came home from her summer term of study at Harvard, is now in the city, engaged to return to Mary Baldwin Seminary at Staunton, Va., as instructor in elocution and gymnastics for another year. She will leave for the south about Sept. 1.

Hon. C. A. Kenyon and wife of Indianapolis and Dr. and Mrs. A. J. McDonough of Kansas City, Mo., were a distinguished automobile party touring through Waterford last week, who were suddenly arrested, not by our vigilant constable but by the breaking of the steering gear, near the residence of Lawrence Merrill. They were aiming to arrive at Fryeburg that night, but in their dilemma they were compelled to depend upon the hospitality of the nearby home of Brother and Sister Haynes, whose well known Grange Cottage has marvelous capacity for accommodation of seekers after coolness and comfort, and had already a large party of summer guests. But Bro. Haynes, as soon as he was apprised of the stranded party in his neighborhood, came with his fine carriage and soon conveyed the four strangers to his home, where they were thoroughly repaired. This party had started from Philadelphia, and had motored via New York and the coast route through Connecticut, Rhode Island and all along shore to Portland, thence to Waterford, where they met their first check in their progress. Their projected tour includes the White Mountains, Montreal and all Canada east to Detroit, and back to their western homes. Mr. Kenyon is chairman of the Good Roads

Two miserable looking hoboes called on the dean of a medical college and proposed that he purchase their bodies for the dissecting room, as they were on the verge of starvation and had not long to live.

"It is an odd proposition," hesitated the dean.

"But it is occasionally done," suggested the spokesman eagerly.

"Well," said the dean, "we might arrange it. What price do you ask?"

"Over in New York," replied the spokesman, "they gave us $40."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Happy Children's Party.

The beautiful lawn at Forrest Thurston's home furnished just the proper setting for a happy children's party, Friday afternoon, the 18th day of August. The happy event was given to celebrate two birthdays, that of Henry Bradbury and Master Harold Thurston. Master Harold received his friends dressed in Indian costume and the older members of the party found their interest in the happiness of the children and in admiring the beautiful flowers and shrubs.

Later in the afternoon a table covered with all sorts of good things was spread under the stately elms and the scene was a pretty one as the eager children clustered about. The crown of the feast was the birthday cake that was indeed a work of art, and Mrs. Thurston presented it to Mrs. George M. Chase of Lewiston as her birthday also was near at hand. Then it was discovered that five of those present were born during the last half of August. The men of the party assisted Mrs. Thurston in serving delicious muple ice cream, home made cookies, nabis, peanuts, chocolate fudge and molasses kisses besides the fine birthday cake.

Those who shared in the delightful afternoon were: Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Thurston and sons, Harold and Stanley, Pearl Bradbury and son, Henry, Vivian Thurston of Errol, N. H., Mr. Cohen of Boston, Mass., Prof. and Mrs. George M. Chase and daughters, Helen and Elizabeth of Lewiston, Mrs. Charles F. Dr. Chas. L. Fogg was called last week to Cumberland to test a herd of cows. He says all the cows from which milk is sold in Portland have to be tested every year. He thinks the Board of Health here should require a similar test of cows owned by those who sell milk in this village.

Norway Lake School Reunion.

The eighth annual reunion of the teachers and pupils of the Norway Lake school district was held on Friday, August 18th.

The day was perfect and saw a large gathering, 225 being present. Long before noon the guests began to arrive, some in teams, some in autos and some on foot, and the time before dinner was spent in renewing old acquaintances and talking over the "old times."

A little after twelve o'clock dinner was announced, and those who were fortunate in being present enjoyed a fine repast, such as only the splendid cooks who live in this quiet little neighborhood can get together.

After dinner all were in a mood to enjoy the literary entertainment which the program committee had prepared, and was carried through with a smoothness which reflects credit on the retiring president, Donald Partridge, who presided.

Judge Charles F. Whitman of Norway gave the address of the day and talked over the old school days. Dora Kerwin gave two readings, which were well received. John A. Roberts gave a talk, and in fact every number on the program was enjoyed by the large number present.

Much credit is due all the retiring officers and committees who attended to their respective tasks which blended the whole into one of the most successful and most enjoyable of those yearly gatherings of old District No. 5.

Following is the program:

Business, secretary and treasurer's reports—election of officers.

President—Ellen Hall.
1st Vice President—Donald Partridge.
2d Vice President—Hector Perry.
3d Vice President—Goldie Frost.

Secretary—F. E. Partridge.
Treasurer—J. L. Partridge.

Singing—chorus of young ladies.
Prayer—E. T. Dunn.

Singing—Eben, Ruth and Lois Marston.
Address of Welcome—Mrs. Donald Partridge.
Solo—Helen Dunn.

Letters from absent members—secretary.
Reading, Grandma at the Masquerade, encore.
The Mustard Plaster—Dora Kerwin.

Original poem—Charles S. Bartlett.
Address—Judge C. F. Whitman.
Singing—chorus of young ladies.
Address—Hon. J. A. Roberts.

Remarks—Mrs. Ellen Stevens French, Mrs. Hattie Young Hixon.

A rising vote of thanks was given Judge C. F. Whitman and Dora Kerwin for their help in our entertainment for our eighth reunion of the old teachers and pupils of District No. 5. Adjourned to meet in one year.

The program committee were fortunate in not only having an original poem written for this occasion but of having the author, Chas. S. Bartlett of Auburn, to deliver it in person. For the benefit of those who were not present we print the poem:

Told in School Meeting, 1826, District Five
"Good men and true, you are assembled now
At this, Our District School House, March 10th,
To hear and see that we need full school
times present time.

For the teacher's getting sulky for the twelve
weeks of his term.
"He says to me last Wednesday night: 'Dear
Jones, it seems quite wrong
To keep me only boarding round (the meat's
now getting strong)
For pork that's killing fall my friend is
rather worse for wear.
Twelve long weeks I've ate it, but no money
I declare.

"And beans they too (I liked 'em once) I dare
not even raise,
For yellow eyes though good at times, are alien
to our race;
How can a man on such like feed, teach the
rule of three,
On these alone, as well beside, read Pope,
Milton and Aeschylus?

"Besides all this, at the school the fire wood I fit.
'Twas tough old oak and elm, so hard it broke
the ax's old,
That mean old Tory, Samuel Smith, to pay his
chill and daughter, Beatrice and Marjorie,
Hauled in the meanest he could find—Goli's
mercy on his soul!

"I sweep the floors, wash off the slates, and
set the copies to read,
At morning must I lead the hymn, read from the Book to true
On top of this, when they get here with frozen ears and toes,
With snow ball's each I must apply to quiet
all their woes.

"Then just as I get all things fixed for lessons to recite
Down comes the funnel, wired on the corner, O what a sight!
The girls, they run and shriek and cry with terror most sublime
But truly I do hold my views—'twas only to kill time.

"The boys laugh and shout hooray as if 'twas
a Fourth July;
The cause, I vainly seek to find—'till suddenly discovery—
The devil's nail from out the beams (by magic hand no doubt)
Are pulled and in the wire ciling, from loops all sticking out.

"A tell tale fact, some rogue is here, his devilry profound
Has made a mess to try a saint beyond all Heavenly bound.
My thoughts run riot thru my brain, a sickening
ing, deadly hate,
I'll kill this young hyena though State's prison be my fate.

"Such things as these pass human mind to play or amend
And all my strength to imp's rearview, with fury did I send Each stick of birch, as I did wield in good and wholesome style Was worth a son of knowledge though injected 'twas mean while!

"Now dear friend Jones the worst I'll tell,
your parental ear incline
The brat I fogged, this selfsame day will gangle on a line.
Unless he changes wonderfully—his name is Tommy Jones.

He's your oldest son, I'm proud to say, born of your blood and bones.
"But if you think that I am here to stand all this—his bluff,
You, as district agent, can surely make a fuss,
But I can't help it if you do, and I will sure resist.

Still, Brother Jones, I wish to keep transmission to your line.
"So if I hadn't fogged your boy, he'd gone from bad to worse
Some day in distant future, he'd been driven in a hearse.

Unless, perchance, some pirate crew had drawn him to its ranks, Then it would be a hearse at all, but he would walk the plank.

"I'll leave it all for you to say, and do just as you choose;
Just kindly give to me the doubt, and pay me
up my dues.
For education, Brother Jones, is not all books and jaw.

And this same boy of yours, my friend, has met the Moral Law.
"So brethren, of District Five I've called this meeting here
To see if we can't engage our teacher for the year.
He surely is a good one and fifty's cheap at that.
Next time he looks that boy of mine I hope
'twill be a fact.

"We've had all sorts of teachers here, some good, lots had I frow,
But never since my memory served—a fighter
like 'tis now!
I like his ways—he's 'so direct, and when I asked him John
He said: 'I got what I deserved' by Gosh, didn't he put it on!

The program committee were fortunate in not only having an original poem written for this occasion but of having the author, Chas. S. Bartlett of Auburn, to deliver it in person. For the benefit of those who were not present we print the poem:

Told in School Meeting, 1826, District Five
"Good men and true, you are assembled now
At this, Our District School House, March 10th,
To hear and see that we need full school
times present time.

For the teacher's getting sulky for the twelve
weeks of his term.
"He says to me last Wednesday night: 'Dear
Jones, it seems quite wrong
To keep me only boarding round (the meat's
now getting strong)
For pork that's killing fall my friend is
rather worse for wear.
Twelve long weeks I've ate it, but no money
I declare.

"And beans they too (I liked 'em once) I dare
not even raise,
For yellow eyes though good at times, are alien
to our race;
How can a man on such like feed, teach the
rule of three,
On these alone, as well beside, read Pope,
Milton and Aeschylus?

"Besides all this, at the school the fire wood I
fit.
'Twas tough old oak and elm, so hard it broke
the ax's old,
That mean old Tory, Samuel Smith, to pay his
chill and daughter, Beatrice and Marjorie,
Hauled in the meanest he could find—Goli's
mercy on his soul!

"I sweep the floors, wash off the slates, and
set the copies to read,
At morning must I lead the hymn, read from
the Book to true
On top of this, when they get here with

THAT
BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders."

My health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others, you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODARD, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. Do get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.
